

Dear customers,

Thank you for all your pre-orders for the new CMC 2023/2024 models.

These models (plus some extra, see below) have now been reserved by me at CMC, which ensures delivery.

Timetable:

CMC currently assumes the following delivery-schedule:

-April/May 2023: the remaining Uhlenhaut models M-243, 244 and 245 (see attached list)

-June-Sept. 2023: the Alfa Romeo P3 models M-219 to M-228 (7 versions)

-from December 2023: the Ferrari 250GTO models, starting with the LHD versions M-252, M-253, M-254 and M- 255, then the RHD versions (see list)

Pre-orders

CMC gave me the opportunity to reserve 3 to 6 extra pieces of each model at a pre-order price, so you can still order them with a discount of about 7 to 8% compared to the sales price at CMC.

Exception: model M-226, the Alfa Romeo P3 Fagioli winner GP Italy.

It is sold out at CMC, but can still be ordered from me at a slightly higher price of € 619.

Of the GTO models, M-253 and M-256 are sold out at CMC, but can still be ordered from me for the time being at a pre-order price.

The expectation is that the prices of the models sold out at CMC will soon go up.

If you want to take advantage of the lower pre-order prices, I look forward to receiving your order as soon as possible.

Models in stock.

On the attached list you will also find the models that are still available from stock, including a number of Ferrari GTB/C models.

I look forward to any additional orders in the short term.

-M-138 Alfa Romeo 6C 1750 GS, 1930 €413

On the occasion of the Techno Classica Essen (April 12-16, 2023), CMC will publish another Messemodell.

It is not yet 100% sure what this model will look like, but it is expected to cost around € 800.

If you are interested in this model, please let me know, I have pre-reserved a number of them.

Looking forward to your response, with kind regards,

Henk ten Cate

NB Below is the translation of an article about Nick Mason's Ferrari 250 GTO, of which CMC releases the model M-253.

The model is already sold out at CMC, but you can still order it from me at pre-order price (while stocks last)

How Pink Floyd was saved in 1987 by the world's most expensive car

Pink Floyd's 1987 tour "A Momentary Lapse of Reason" was financed by drummer Nick Mason... and his Ferrari 250 GTO.

1987 marked the great return of the British rock group Pink Floyd with the album A Momentary Lapse of Reason. A turning point in the group's history, as it was the first album without Roger Waters, one of the founders of Pink Floyd. He left the band two years earlier. To promote the album, the British planned a world tour. But it might never have happened without drummer Nick Mason and his Ferrari 250 GTO.

Thanks to Nick

At that time, the world-famous British group encountered financial problems, including due to the legal battle with Roger Waters over the use of the Pink Floyd name. To cover the huge costs of the big world tour, Nick Mason used his Ferrari 250 GTO as a guarantee. That car was certainly not worth the $ 40 million it
